The breakdown of a family relationship can be extremely stressful. At Prince Evans, we recognise this and our service prioritises each client's individual needs.

We will guide you through any family matters with care, sensitivity and discretion. Our advice will be practical and realistic with an ethical approach to help people move forward with their lives.

We follow Resolution's Code of Conduct in dealing with cases in a constructive and non-confrontational approach by negotiation whenever possible. We aim to complete your matter expertly, efficiently and cost effectively.

We charge competitive rates and regularly provide you with costs estimates and updates.

Clients are always given the option to attend Mediation. We work closely with other professionals for the benefit of our clients, including barristers, counsellors and accountants.

At Prince Evans, we work with you to achieve an outcome that is right for you and your family.

We can help you with:

- Financial settlements including property, pensions, maintenance and other assets
- Issues relating to children such as residence and contact
- Pre and post nuptial/civil partnership agreements
- Co-habitation agreements

To support our family services Prince Evans also provides expertise in related areas including:

- Buying, selling and transferring property,
- Preparing your will
- Planning your family finances

Choosing the right solicitor for you is the first and most important step in the progress of your family matter. Meeting face to face will give you the opportunity to get to know your adviser. There is a brief profile on the last page and you may find the following information helpful:

Documents you should bring to the first meeting:

- Your marriage certificate
- Any correspondence you have had with your partner or his/her solicitor
- Any court papers you have received
- Your passport and a utility bill (for identification purposes)
